IN THIS ISSUE

WE ARE WRATH, WE ARE RUIN, WE ARE THE ESF

Who are we?

"Squadron without borders". We are a mercenary group which has roots all the way to the Korean conflict. After the war most of us joined a well-known mercenary group called Grim Reapers where we gathered further experience for a while, until we realised our ideals did not match theirs. The core four Blyats separated under Cmdr. Coffee's initiative and formed Aesthetic Blyats. As our band slowly grew, the Blyats have restructured as ESF-127, with the core four carrying the honorary title of "Aesthetic Blyat". The founding four are Coffee, Fortinero, Wolfshadow and Raptor

We do not merely chase power or petty funds. Our main goal is to show the world you can achieve greatness if you employ your assets correctly and professionally, and look very AESTHETIC in doing so.

Why us?

Our principle is to be surgical, to be clean, and execute our plan with the highest degree of accuracy, with no losses. That means savings for you, the client. As most of us are former GR pilots, we know their ins and outs and organizational structure well, and this is one of our key selling points should you hire us against them. Our pilots are professional and experienced, and employ comms you can listen to.

We offer a cost-effective alternative to other competitors and our crew is well and able to take on numbers greater than ours. Our fleet is well maintained and operational and we have divisions all over the globe. We are able to take on ANY type of mission, anywhere.

If you choose us and forward the funds required, we will prosecute the target of your choosing with utmost fervor.

Our fleet

Our fleet as it is now consists primarily of European aircraft, but as funds allow it and we manage our connections, it is expected to be updated

Our future and motivations

Our organization is a functioning machine ready to be wound into action

Our Fleet

by Coffee

Our fleet is a well-oiled machine of terror as much as it is of beauty. Our planes are AESTHETIC and very capable in the right hands even in today's airspace. Our primary aircraft are:

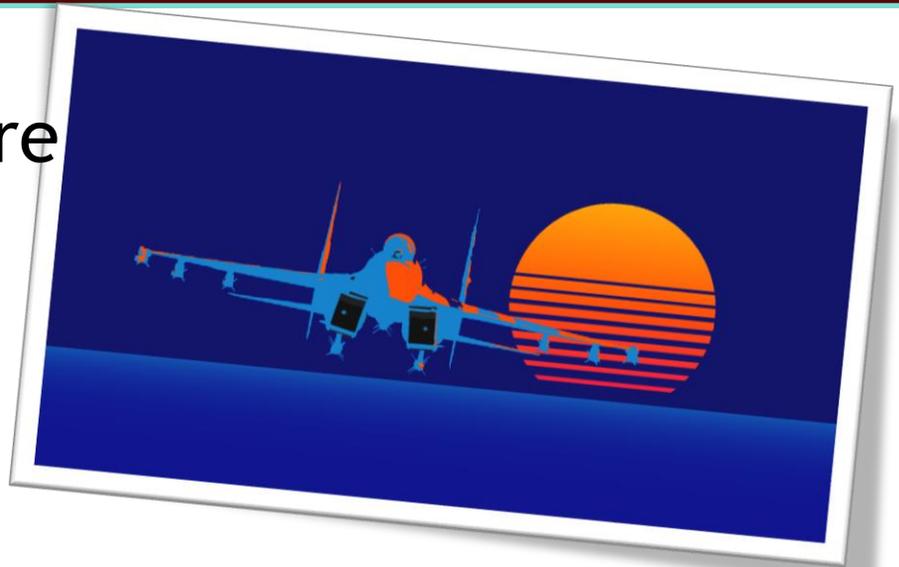

- MiG-21 Fishbed C
- AJS-37 Viggen
- F-5E-3 Tiger II
- MiG-29 A,S,K
- Su-25A, Su25T
- Su-27, Su33
- Mirage 2000-C
- Mi-8MTV2 Hip
- UH-1H Huey
- Sa342 Gazelle
- Ka-50 Black Shark
- L-39 Albatross

Sometimes we manage to acquire small batches of oddities, such as F-15C, A10-C, MiG-15, warbirds or specialty ordinance such as cruise missiles and nuclear weaponry.

These items are rare, hard to come by and do not come cheaply, so we do not harbor them in large numbers or store them locally in our inventory. This doesn't mean we can't use them.

THE FUTURE OF OUR FLEET

As our marketing team secures more funding and connections, we expect to add in multiple, fresh western aircraft such as the AV-8BN/A Harrier, F-14 and F-18

Operational history and stories

by Coffee

Often in our missions we face the fiercest foe imaginable... post-editing. This is something we have a guerrilla war going against. History can be written, but it can be written wrongly. We have had multiple successful campaigns under our "Wrath" subsidiary group, with which we have successfully rendered a carrier group immobile, severed supply lines and wreaked havoc on a number of airfields rendering them inoperable for various amounts of time. Our greatest success story is our three-pronged attack on three consecutive airbases, in which we took only minor losses and destroyed four runways in just one mission against a far better equipped foe!

Most of our missions are against the Grim Reapers, and I can guarantee you we will throw a wrench deep in their plans if you hire us to keep doing it. Our track record is good, and the future looks bright for the ESF.

HEADING 4

A10-C

The premier CAS aircraft, a rather rare treat for the ESF, but when received, it is used to its maximum potential!

MiG-21

Currently one of our most used aircraft for relatively low-threat missions. Combines both A/A firepower and the possibility for ground strikes

FAST FACTS

85%

Of our missions end in a REDFOR success

30%

Of our airframes requiring complete scrapping or extensive rework after a mission. Synonymous with losses.

Our motivations and goals

by Coffee

We employ strict communications rules and do not fuck about when combat begins, as bad comms drive us nuts. Prior to engagement however, it's all fun and games. We feel that good communications make everything much smoother and enjoyable for everyone.

There are a number of things we perceive to be poorly handled in some unnamed groups, so ESF-127 is sort of counter culture within that culture, so to speak. We let our actions speak for us, and sometimes to teach someone you need to drop a bomb or two near them. Or on them. Or everywhere around them. We do all of that.

We train with our aircraft against a foe much larger than us. We practice underdog tactics and attempt to use our wits against raw firepower, which is something we often lack as we do not have as long a history with arms dealers as GR does (You can help us by supplying top-grade weapons!). However, with our current track record, imagine how we would perform if we had equal tools. Food for thought.

Limitations for hiring and fees

We have practically no limitations for mission taskings! No task is too immoral, no task is too far into the enemy territory and no task is denied outright without a basis for it.

We are happy to fulfill your desire for wanton destruction so long as you fund us, provided you don't pay us to attack our own men Catch 22 style or send us to our deaths unnecessarily. Mosques, churches, hospitals or convoys of any kind. If the target is irrelevant in the eyes of a seeker head of a smart munition, and if the bomb doesn't care, neither do we.

Our pricing is done on a mission basis, as we need to calculate the fuel loads and weapons requirements for them, as well as factor in transit. We do this with the customer in mind, so our extra effort translates into your savings, while retaining the maximum effectiveness on the target you chose.

We hope this brochure has persuaded you to hire us, and we look forward to dropping bombs with your personalised greeting etched on it (bonus for consecutive hires).
